So much to get caught up on!

First things first, Andrew McMahon will be on The Stupid Cancer Show once again tonight to chat about the Dear Jack Foundation and his battle with cancer. Check it out here at 5 PM PST and 8 PM EST.

In other Dear Jack Foundation news, the incentives have been announced for the 2013 Light the Night fundraising walks. Check out the details, as well as info on registering to walk on a local team and donating to Andrew McMahon's own LTN fundraising page, here.

Another way to help in the fight to kick cancer's butt in Andrew's honor is to participate in Jack's Mannequin Day. Find details on how and why you should celebrate this day dedicated to Andrew McMahon here.

In The Pop Underground EP news, Andrew has released a limited amount of the EP for purchase from the official Andrew McMahon web store.

Lastly, Andrew recently played some acoustic songs and gave a short interview at Radio 104.5 in Philadelphia. Check out an acoustic version of Synesthesia on the Wrecking Ball Heart Tumblr page.
